Irene graduated from Notre Dame High School and soon after married her life-long partner, George.

Raising a family and being married for nearly 60 years were among Irene's most treasured accomplishments. Irene was very active throughout her life. She enjoyed traveling and went on excursions to Hawaii, the Bahamas, Canada and Europe. Irene was also active with her church communities participating in retreats, corsillos, choirs and eucharistic ministry. She was involved with the "Daughters of Isabella" for a number of years and enjoyed living out her faith in ways that positively contributed to the lives of others. For those who knew Irene, it will come as no surprise how much she loved music. Attending musical productions, concerts, singing, dancing and listening to big band, classical and "oldies" were part of her everyday life. Sitting in a park, listening to a concert, eating coffee ice cream with loved ones would probably be, on Irene's scale, a 10. Highlights and precious memories of Irene's life are too numerous to recount, however, as we remember and cherish Irene, with her laughter, joie de vivre, compassionate heart, steadfast faith and generous spirit, we will remain forever grateful to God for blessing us with the gift of her life.

NOTES concerning John Bergeron, married at 28, deceased at 66.

Growing up, the eldest son of eleven children, John stood out with his appetite for reading and learning, especially in science as he led his siblings in experiments that often caused mischief. He graduated magna cum laude with a Masters in Science from Brown University in 1977, later earning his Doctor of Internal Medicine from Brown University in 1983.

While completing his residency at RI Hospital, he fell in love with Joanne, a nurse on the MICU. He was a committed community doctor, caring for the underserved at Wood River Health Services for 37 years. His colleagues described him as "an astute physician and a tremendous diagnostician".

His fascination with understanding how all things worked drove his skills in construction and carpentry, renovating the family home and engineering creative solutions that rivaled those of experts. John raised his sons with his shared interests in technology, computers, and engineering.

Driven by a commitment to family, he connected with his French-Canadian roots by developing fluency in French, immersing himself in European culture with frequent travels with friends and family. An avid cyclist, some of his closest friendships were developed on the road as he participated in weekly community rides, walks, and bike tours across the country.

Throughout his life he remained a gentle spirit - modest, selfless, and dedicated to the service of others.
